

Stephen Evans & the True Grits

Folk Rock Band

After many years of vacillating between being a professional musician and building a nest in Asheville, NC, Stephen Evans finally asked his friends, Brian Shoemaker (bass), Sam Hess (drums), and Woodstock (mandolin), to form the True Grits and make some music together.

Then in 2015, Stephen Evans & the True Grits released their first LP "Something to Bleed". Excited to release more music, they followed with their 2017 EP "Under the Bridge." Both records received local and regional praise for their passion and unique creativity.

Stephen's poetic lyricism & melodic songwriting style is a blend of vivid imagery, darkness, and hopeful optimism. There's no denying the feeling that shines through with his evocative vocals as well as the incredible musicality of the band that backs him up. Songs like 'Winning the Day', 'Ghost Among the Trees', 'Estefania', 'Buzz of Bees', 'The Garden', 'Cherokee Hills', 'Shining Star', and '1000 Roses' are all beacons of his folk rock song craft.

Their new album "Buzz of Bees" was recently released on December 16th, 2022, to a very favorable response from fans, new fans, and media! Look for Stephen Evans & the True Grits to make a big mark with this beautiful album.
